Dear Mr Ogbunugafor,

Following our meetings, Helikon Consortium hereby offers to buy ninety per cent (90%) of the entire issued share capital of Jollof Living from you and your co-owners.

The purchase covers the company and all of its assets, including without limitation: (1) all digital products and infrastructure — domain names and subdomains, websites, mobile applications, source code and repositories, databases and backups, server and cloud infrastructure, hosting and registrar accounts, SSL/TLS and other digital security certificates, email and social-media accounts, app-store listings, APIs, software licences and administrative access; and (2) all intellectual property — trademarks, trade names, logos, brand assets, trade dress, copyrights, design rights, patents and patent applications, know-how and goodwill in the Jollof Living name.

Price: ₦2.88 billion (US$1.80 million), being eighteen per cent (18%) of the Year-3 enterprise value of ₦16 billion in the financial projections we reviewed. Cash at closing, in USD or NGN. You retain ten per cent (10%) as ordinary shares. No earn-out, no further cash.

Mr Chinwike Ogbunugafor will serve as Chief Technology Officer for eighteen (18) months from closing at ₦500,000 per month. No bonus. No additional equity.

This offer is final and absolute. It will not be negotiated further. A counter-proposal is a rejection. Accept by signing below and returning this letter by 17:00 WAT on 30 September 2026, failing which the offer lapses. Closing by 31 October 2026. Nigerian law; Lagos courts. We have the funds; there is no financing condition.

Yours faithfully,
